

THE DELAWARE HUNTER EDUCATION

PROGRAM

2008–2009 (UPDATED 07NOV07)

The Delaware Hunter Education Program was established in 1970 and as a result of Section 501, Title 7, Delaware Code, all persons born after January 1, 1967 must satisfactorily complete a Basic Hunter Education Course in order to obtain a Delaware Hunting license. The legislative intent was to reduce hunting accidents, and the program has been extremely effective. Since 1970 over 35,000 Delaware hunters have been certified through the Delaware Hunter Education Program.

While the accident rate has significantly decreased, emerging factors have also become important in the area of the hunter education curriculum. Changing demographics and the decreasing amount of available open space both for habitat and hunting have created new situations and considerations for hunters, landowners, the Division of Fish and Wildlife and Delaware's general public who may or may not be hunters themselves. In response, the Delaware Hunter Education Program is also changing to meet the demands and challenges of a new hunting era. An increased emphasis continues to be placed on safety through improved methods and techniques of Delaware's volunteer hunting instructors. Today's curriculum includes landowner relations, ethical behavior, wildlife identification, wildlife management and conservation, hunting and game laws and their enforcement.

Courses are free of charge and are conducted by certified volunteer instructors. Hunter education training is offered throughout the year, so please complete your training AT LEAST ONE MONTH before you plan to hunt. Certification cards will be mailed as soon as possible after the course but may take up to one month to process and go through the mail. The card must be presented to purchase a Delaware hunting license. Seating is limited and classes will fill quickly as hunting season approaches. You must pre-register to attend. STUDENTS UNDER THE AGE OF TWELVE MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY A RESPONSIBLE ADULT. CERTIFICATION WILL NOT BE ISSUED TO YOUTHS UNDER THE AGE OF TEN. PARENTS SHOULD REMEMBER THAT ESPECIALLY YOUNGER STUDENTS REQUIRE A LEVEL OF MATURITY AND VOCABULARY SUFFICIENT FOR UNDERSTANDING ADULT SUBJECT MATTER AND COMPLETING ASSIGNMENTS. STUDENTS OF SMALLER PHYSICAL BODY SIZE MAY FIND IT VERY DIFFICULT OR IMPOSSIBLE TO SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETE LIVE FIRING EXERCISES.

WARNING! DON'T GET CAUGHT SHORT!

If you plan to go hunting in September of 2007, and you need Hunter Education Qualification in order to buy a hunting license for the 2007 – 2008 season. . . .

DON'T WAIT UNTIL AUGUST TO TAKE THE COURSE!

IT MAY TAKE UP TO ONE MONTH to process tests, enter the results into our computer, print out the cards and get them to you by mail. DON'T WAIT TILL THE LAST MINUTE. Take a course in the spring. Get ready early. Avoid the last minute panic. Plan ahead. Do it now.

COURSES ARE AVAILABLE THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.

The Delaware Hunter Education Program is committed to preserving the heritage of hunting through education. In addition to Delaware's mandatory Basic Hunter Education, Turkey Education and Trapper Education courses, the program offers numerous advanced courses in Bowhunting, Muzzleloading, Migratory Waterfowl and Deer Hunting and Proper Game Care - From Field to Table. The new DELAWARE MASTER HUNTER program now provides advanced hunter education for the experienced hunter and additionally strives to develop advocates, ambassadors and role models for hunting with the goal of continuing the heritage of responsible hunting and insuring its future for generations to come. The Young Waterfowler's Program, Young Ethical Hunter Program and the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman Program target women and youth giving them the opportunity to pursue recreational activities they normally would not participate in. All of these courses and programs give the hunter/trapper a resource for continued educational opportunities that keep the hunter updated in specific disciplines. Hunters have a responsibility to themselves, other hunters, the landowner and the wildlife, to continue their education beyond the basics.
